Milwaukee & Horicon R. R.—A Great Strike for Business.

We learn from Mr. VLIET, the capable and energetic Engineer of the Milwaukee & Horicon R. R. Co., that that company has concluded arrangements for the purchase of all the Fox and Wolf river fleet of steamers, namely: the Peytona, the Oshkosh City, the Eureka, the Knapp, the Menomonee, and the Pearl. These steamers will hereafter run in direct connection with the Horicon road, in daily lines, from Berlin up the Fox river to Montello, down to Oshkosh and Lake Winnebago, and up the Wolf river as far as Weyauwega and Gill's Landing, and boats will be sent up the Wolf to Shawano, according to the demands of business.

A glance at the Map of Wisconsin, tracing the line of the road to Berlin, and marking the course of the Fox and Wolf rivers, and the growing towns and rich and thickly settled farming and lumbering country which they drain, will show the importance of this movement to the Company, securing at once to its first completed 40 miles, a travel and traffic, the extent of which few appreciate. It will tell largely upon the receipts of the Company.

The State Superintendent.

We depart from our usual custom of declining anonymous communications, and publish the following, as relating to a matter of great public moment and treating it in a fair and candid manner:

EDS SENTINEL:—I agree in the main with your suggestions in relation to the matters connected with the office of State Superintendent of Education; but I have serious doubts whether any improvements would result from submitting the selection of a candidate to the annual meeting of the State Teachers' Association. There is a fault somewhere; and is it not in this? that the duties appertaining to the office have not been rightly understood, and properly appreciated by those who have led opinions in this matter? And would the Teachers' Association be likely to correct this? I trow not. It is not the same as filling a Professor's chair, or a school teacher's desk. The business appertaining to the office of Superintendent, (and it is emphatically a business office,) has little affinity to that of a practical teacher. Indeed, most of it, and that not the least in importance, has nothing to do with the matter of teaching, or the discipline of schools. The decision of the Superintendent is final in all matters arising under the common school law of the State; and how multitudinous and various are those, after involving important legal questions, and questions deeply affecting the rights and interests of individual, of school districts, and of neighborhoods. This would seem to require capacity of other mould than that formed by teaching, and controlled by a habit become rigid by long practice. Hence, in my opinion, it is not to the school men, as such, that we should look to introduce reform into the office, but by seeking in a candidate adaptation of individual character—a man of high intellectual attainment, strong mental powers, independent and liberal habits of thinking, of varied talents, discriminating and decisive, withal a marked common sense man,—in a word, what the business world would readily recognize and denominate a first rate business man.

And if it be so, then we should most assuredly be again disappointed by referring it to the Teachers' Association to elect the man; for reason, that almost of necessity they would select the teacher, and the teacher only. To effect a reform in this department, the subject must be better studied, and exhibited in its true light—the attention of business men of all callings and professions must be called and given to it—and then with true business tact, and business discrimination, they will point to the proper candidate. It may be that Professor MCMYNN, or Professor MAGOFFIN, is such; but, if so, it must be cause of the fitness of their individual character, and not on account of their professional standing. S.

The writer of the above has studied the subject with care, and we heartily concur with him in all that he says in relation to the kind of man needed for the schools of our State.

The suggestion made by the Racine Advocate to leave the selection of the man to the State Teachers' Association struck us, at first glance, as a good one, in that it would remove the office from the scramble of parties, and be likely to bring forward somebody who would be supported because of superior qualifications for the office, having been selected by those who ought to know what the office needs. If, however, there is danger that the party scramble will only be removed to the Association, to its detriment, we have no desire to press the suggestion.

While we agree with our correspondent as to the character needed in the candidate, we still think that a practical teacher, possessing as many of those traits of character, and those as decided as possible, is to be preferred to such a man having no experience in teaching; and it was because we regarded Mr. MCMYNN as, of all men that we know in the State, possessing most of the desired qualifications, that we mentioned his name in connection with the office. Let the true friends of our common school system find, and present, the name of a better man for the place, and we shall be pleased to support him, come whence, or from what party, he may. We are tired of the miserable inefficiency which has managed, or mismanaged, or neglected, our schools, and desire to see a thorough reform instituted by somebody who possesses the ability and energy to effect it.

BAD ARRANGEMENTS.—Our Janesville and Madison friends are very much inconvenienced by the present time table on the Milwaukee and Mississippi R. R., and of course the same cause of complaint exists all along the line. The first train not leaving here till nearly noon, of course mail matter has to await its movements, and is not delivered at Janesville and Madison till late in the day. We presume the present time table was arranged for the despatch of travelers by through connections, but we trust that something may be done to expedite the mails.

☞ The American, the other day, copied and commented upon a brief paragraph from the N. Y. Tribune, making it the basis of a question which it asked us. We replied that if the American dared to publish enough of the Tribune's article to indicate its real position, we would answer. To this the American rejoins that it does not take the Tribune!

PRO-SLAVERY MOVEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—The editor of the Mattoon Gazette, down in the Egypt of Illinois, himself formerly a whig, and, like most of the members of that good old party who have gone over to Sham Democracy, an arrant doughface, comes out boldly in his paper in favor of the establishment of Slavery in Illinois!

☞ The Milwaukee Sentinel fears that we are crazy, because the Union threatens to exterminate the Republicans with "fire and sword" if they do not abandon their treasonable practices and designs. We assure our neighbors, with the most solemn seriousness, that we are perfectly sane, and as an evidence, both of our sanity and earnestness in this matter, we will state that we have already had a long talk with Major General MCMAHON, who assures us of his aid and comfort should a resort to the Militia be deemed absolutely necessary.—Fond du Lac Union.

If the redoubtable Adjutant General, under whose lead of the Militia, Wisconsin was to "defy the world in arms, and even herself," has declared against us, we may as well give it up at once.

By the way, some indignant "C" in the Union wishes the world to know that he, and not Mr. THOMAS, was the crazy individual. He says:

We wish it distinctly understood that we penned the sentiments of offence, and which the Sentinel wishes to turn into ridicule in the above extract, and we are prepared to show that they are no more ultra than facts attest to be true.

We beg pardon. We do not like to "twit" unfortunate people upon facts. "C" is crazy all the time.

THE ENGLISH "PATRIOTIC FUND."—The "Patriotic Fund," subscribed in Great Britain and her Provinces, and by British residents and others of foreign countries, for the benefit of the soldiers who suffered in the late Russian war, their wives and children, was one of the largest of that character ever collected. Prince Albert, Chairman of the Commissioners to distribute the fund, lately stated, in an address to Queen Victoria, that the total amount was £1,440,985, or over seven millions of dollars. Of this amount, £105 was received from Lawrence, Mass., £1,728 from New York, £860 from New Orleans, £450 from San Francisco, £17 from Davenport, Iowa, and £162 from Philadelphia. Of the surplus, the Commissioners have appropriated £68,000 for the erection of an asylum for the reception of three hundred of the orphan daughters of soldiers, sailors and marines, and have endowed it with the sum of $700,000. The foundation stone of the new asylum was laid in presence of Her Majesty.

FORTIFICATIONS AROUND NEW YORK.—The Board of Engineers, U. S. A., for the Atlantic coast, consisting of Cols. Thayer, De Russey and Smith, and Major Barnard, concluded their labors last week. They have had under consideration plans for the new works to be erected at Sandy Hook, Fort Tompkins, and Wilkins' Point. The surveys at Sandy Hook are under the charge of Col. De Russey. The Government owns the land here; appropriation $250,000. The surveys for the work on the site of Fort Tompkins are under the direction of Major Barnard. A tract of 150 acres has just been purchased for the fortification at Wilkins' Point, L. I., opposite Throg's neck, for $200,000.

THE VIRGINIA EMIGRATION SCHEME.—Ell Thayer is publishing his scheme of emigration to Virginia. The project seems to be well received in the western part of the State. At Guyandotte, on the 21st of July, he addressed the people at the Court House, after which a series of resolutions were passed, of which the following was one:

Resolved, That we will welcome to our State the good, law abiding citizens of any and all other States of the Union, or the world, who may choose to cast their lot with us, to aid us in making Western Virginia one of the wealthiest sections in the Union, and raising the Old Dominion, the mother of States and statesmen, to the dignified and commanding commercial position which she once occupied among the States of the Union.

THE LAST SOUTHERN CONVENTION.—The late Convention held at Old Point, Virginia, is said to have been well attended and enthusiastic.—Speeches and resolutions were made and passed without stint in favor of Dudley Mann's Steam Ferry from Chesapeake Bay to Milford Haven, England. But, after all, only eight thousand dollars was subscribed in aid of the project; a sad comment on political schemes for controlling trade, and a meagre beginning for a line of transatlantic steam ships.

MORMONISM IN THE WESTERN PART OF MICHIGAN.—The Allegan Journal says considerable proselyting has been going on lately in Pine Grove, Van Buren Co., and that part of the southern portion of Trowbridge township known as the Rockwell neighborhood, carried on under the auspices of a Salt Lake Missionary. The good people of the community became indignant and have driven out Brigham Young's polygamous apostle.

A MAIL ITEM.—The two leading Republican States, New York and Massachusetts, send through the mails forty millions of letters, while the fifteen Slaveholding States, altogether, send but thirty-seven millions. Each person in the two States on an average sends by post nine letters annually. In the fifteen States less than two letters to a person are thus sent.

SURRENDER OF THE SMITHSONIAN BUILDING.—The Regents of the Smithsonian Institute propose surrendering their present building to the federal government for a National Museum, as the Institute, under its present plan of operations, require only an office for the transaction of its business.

☞ A fellow was arrested the other day, near Ypsilanti for placing a rail across the track of the Michigan Central R. R., at the approach of a train of cars. He plead an excuse that he didn't mean to hurt anybody, but only wanted "to see the cars take a little jump." He was over fond of sport.

INCENDIARY PRINT.—The postmaster at Bradford, Va., refuses to deliver the New York Independent, because it is an "incendiary print."—The publishers appeal to the Postmaster-General. His decision is looked for with a good deal of interest.

THE FIRE AT ST. PAUL.—A note from Mr STORMS, general agent for the Mil. & Miss. R. R. for Minnesota, states that the fire on the night of the 3d, at St. Paul, destroyed property to the estimated amount of $150,000.

☞ A cane formerly belonging to Gen. Washington was sold in Baltimore last week at auction. It brought $205, and was purchased by the Ladies of the Mt. Vernon Association to be presented to Edward Everett.

IMPORTS AT BOSTON.—The value of foreign goods imported at the port of Boston during the week ending 31st ult. amounted to $1,067,864. The value of imports in the corresponding week in 1857 was $367,555.

☞ Of 130 vessels sent from the United States to Liberia by the Colonization Society since 1820, all have arrived safe, without having to make any claim on the insurance offices for damages.

BUSINESS OF DELAVAN.—The following figures, from the Messenger, of Delevan, Walworth Co., make a handsome showing for one interior town of Wisconsin. In view of the fact that the company is pushing forward the Beloit R. R. to that place, the figures are important as giving promise of a heavy business for the road:

Statement of Lumber, Lath, Shingles, &c., received and sold at Delavan from June 1st, 1856, to July 1st, 1857.—Received, 2,075,336; sold, 2,969,447. Lath received, 476,800; Lath sold, 359,901. Shingles received, 1,514,000; sold, 1,188,000. Posts received, 11,877; Posts sold, 9,687.

Articles shipped by Warehouse men, at Delavan, during the year, as above mentioned:—Wheat, 269,380 bushels; Barley, 15,712 bushels; Oats, 4,745 bushels; Potatoes, 2,707 bushels; Flour, 968 bbls.; Wool, 81,617 lbs; Pork, 478,339 lbs.; Hides, 37,595 lbs.; Grass Seed, 1,886 bushels.

The above does not include the business done at the R. R. Station, by country dealers or village merchants.

Fearful Tragedy in Leavenworth City.

Foul murder—Confessions of the murderers—A Band of Conspirators Discovered—Two of them Arrested and Hung—Great Excitement among the Citizens.

Mr. Andrew Stewart, editor of the Steubenville (Ohio) Union, who has lately been traveling through Kansas Territory, arrived at this place on Monday evening, having departed Leavenworth City on Saturday night, the 1st inst., and favored us with the following particulars of a fearful tragedy enacted on Friday night and Saturday morning at that city. The statements of Mr. Stewart are derived mostly from personal observation, and may be relied upon as correct.

On Friday night, a man named Stephens, living in Kansas City, came up to Leavenworth City, and, while spreeing around, went into a drinking shop called the Ward House. The barkeeper, named Baines, became very friendly, and after getting Stephens quite drunk, proposed a walk up the river, and took him to a spring on the bank of the Missouri River just above the Planter's House, where they were met and assaulted by two men who demanded their money or their lives. The barkeeper, Baines, gave his money up and ran off. When he got to the lower end of the town he gave the alarm that a man was being robbed up the river at the spring. Several parties of citizens immediately went up and arrived on the spot just in time to find poor Stephens crawling out of the river, his body and head all beaten and bruised with stones and clubs, and his chest and shoulders bearing several stabs and cuts. The citizens ran to his assistance, but the unfortunate victim, though struggling to speak was too far gone and presently died, without being able to utter a single word about the manner of his death, or the names of his murderers. Suspicion at once alighted upon Baines, and so outraged were the people, and so violent the presumption of his guilt, that a posse of the citizens at once arrested and held him in close custody. The news in the meantime spread like wild fire all over the city. An immediate trial of Baines was demanded, and finally it was agreed that he should be hung on the spot, without judge or jury. A rope was procured and put around his neck, and already he was being drawn up to the limb of an overhanging tree, when he expressed a wish to make a confession. The crowd yielded and let him down to the ground.

STARTLING CONFESSION.

He said that he and two men, named John Quarles, from South Carolina, and the other called Knowlton, had laid the plot by which Stephens was robbed and murdered, and that the same men had murdered another man a short time before, and had thrown the body in the Missouri River. He stated, also, that he and the men Knowlton and Quarles belonged to an organized body of about twenty-five men, who carried on the business of robbing and murdering in Leavenworth City, on the Island opposite the city, and in both the towns of Lawrence and Topeka.

He then gave them the names of as many of the gang as he could remember.

THE ARRESTS.

As soon as Baines had finished his revelations he was committed to the calaboose, a one-story stone building, about sixteen feet square. The crowd then went off in pursuit of Quarles and Knowlton, and in a short time had them arrested. Among the revealed conspirators was Wm. Woods, the proprietor of the greater part of Leavenworth Island, and regarded heretofore as an honest man and good citizen. A party proceeded at once to arrest him, and after making a thorough search of his house, found $2,500 in counterfeit money, a lot of counterfeiting plates and other instruments, and a knife and pistol belonging to the murdered man, Stephens!

At these conclusive proofs of the correctness of the confessions of Baines, the people were deeply moved, and held counsel together in large and small parties, during the whole of the night.

THE PROCEEDINGS ON SATURDAY—QUARLES AND BAINES HUNG.

We here give the narrative of Mr. Stewart. He says: "I went to the Mayor's office on Saturday morning, and found an immense crowd awaiting the result of the examination of Woods and Knowlton. Baines and Quarles were in the calaboose. While the examination was going on, Judge Lecompte was outside making a speech and expostulating with the angry crowd in favor of law and order. The cry of 'hang 'em, the d——d murderers,' arose frequently from the mob, but milder counsels seemed to be prevailing, when some one shouted, 'to the calaboose! to the calaboose!' and away a crowd of about fifty maddened men started in that direction.—The balance of the people followed after in smaller parties, leaving Judge Lecompte almost alone, and the Mayor's office relieved of its throng of spectators. They had been gone about fifteen minutes, when I heard a great yell. I started after the crowd, and followed it to the bank of a creek, which divides North and South Leavenworth, where there was a steep bank, and on its verge a large elm tree. I reached the spot just in time to see Quarles suspended from the tree, grasping in the agonies of death at the rope which was around his neck, while several of the mob were swinging on his arms and legs, to make his death sure. His body had hardly ceased its convulsions, when the shout was raised for Baines.

The rope was placed around his neck, and he was led to the edge of the bank, when some one of the citizens appeared by his side, and with a watch in his hand, demanded five minutes time for further confessions. They granted it, when Baines said, if they would let him, he would show them another man in town who was concerned in the operations of the gang. He was then taken to the calaboose, but for some reason did not give satisfaction to the people, and they demanded his body to be returned to them.

Judge Lecompte again addressed the people, and with some effect, for they seemed to divide into two parties, the one clamoring for the hanging of the prisoner, and the other demanding a trial for him. Marshal Denis, of the Territory, was also present, and though he exerted himself with all his power he could not maintain his position at the door of the calaboose, nor prevail on the crowd to disperse. The wife of Baines also appeared, and, inspired by the dangerous situation of her husband, took a heroic stand on the entrance, and endeavored by frantic threats and entreaties to stay the wrath of the populace. But all efforts were unavailing; the peace party were overpowered. Judge Lecompte's voice was drowned by the shrieks of the mob. A large piece of hewn timber, perhaps twenty-five feet long and one foot square that was lying near, was lifted up by a crowd of men, and plunged with fearful effect against the calaboose door.—The sight of the wife's distress, and the sound of her screams mingled with the ragings and shrieks of the infuriated mob, was too much for me, and I turned my back and walked away. I heard another blow from the piece of timber, and a simultaneous shout from the crowd, which told me that the door had given way, and the prisoner was at the mercy of the people. I walked hastily round the square, for all its terrors there was a fascination in the sight, and reached the spot just in time to see the mob rushing down the street with the prisoner, toward the creek and the elm tree. I pursued, and when I reached the spot the body of Baines was already in the air, and his last death struggles were quivering along his limbs. The crowd then appeared to be satisfied. Woods and Knowlton meanwhile had been placed in an omnibus and hurried off to the fort. The city continued very much excited up to the hour I left, but no further violence was anticipated. All sorts of stories prevailed, and many of the mysterious disappearances and robberies which have occurred in the Territory are all being referred to this band of murderers.

Milwaukee and Fond du Lac Air Line Railroad.

Travelers on the La Crosse railroad, by keeping a sharp look out, as they run out of Milwaukee, will observe about four miles from that city a railroad diverging to the Northward. This is the Air Line road to Fond du Lac, and we are happy to say that the work of laying the iron thereon will be commenced next week. The company have now on hand nine hundred tons of iron, sufficient to lay nine miles of track, including side tracks, &c. It is their intention to complete the road to Oconomowoc, in Waukesha County, by the 1st of January next. C. B. ALLEN Esq., the President of the Company, is a gentleman of indomitable energy, strict integrity and untiring industry. He is devoting all his time to the prosecution of this work and possessing, as he does, the confidence of Eastern Capitalists, it is only necessary that those who are interested in the success of the enterprise, should show by their subscriptions to stock, that they desire the road to be built, and that they also have confidence in those who are now managing it, to secure "material aid" from these Capitalists, which will enable the worthy President and his co-laborers to prosecute the work with vigor and despatch. If the farmers on the line of the road will but consult their own interests and subscribe to the stock of the Company, proportionately to the benefits they are sure to derive from its completion, we shall have an Air Line route to Fond du Lac within two years.—Fond du Lac Union.

THE CROPS.—The farmers in this vicinity are exultant over the unlooked for prospect, which presents itself on every side of an abundant harvest—corn not excepted. The winter wheat, as far as we can learn, is all cut down, and most of it either safely lodged in barn or stacked; and if the weather remains dry and warm, as it is now for a week or two longer, most of the cereals will be gathered in, threshed, taken to market, the money circulated throughout the State, and business of all kinds will again resume its wonted activity, and growth and prosperity be the order of the day.—Jeffersonian.

Religious Intelligence.

CANTERBURY, ENGLAND & NASHOTAH WISDOM.—A Correspondent of the Church Journal in his account of the proceedings at the annual Commemoration of the Missionary Cottage, of St. Augustine, at Canterbury, England, says: In the evening of the same day (Saturday, June 27), Bishop Smith, of Kentucky, and his lady, arrived from the continent, having left Amiens in the morning. Various international Church matters were specially discussed in the course of conversation, and the institution at Nashotah was honorably mentioned as corresponding with St. Augustine, and well sustaining the good cause of catholic intercourse. The Sub-Warden described with enthusiasm his visit to Nashotah, a few years since, and his interview with Bishop Kemper and others in the distant West.

KNEELING IN PUBLIC WORSHIP.—The Zion's Herald urges upon Methodist congregations the practice of kneeling in prayer during public worship. It also recommends such alteration in the construction of pews as are necessary to render the attitude convenient and comfortable.

RETURN OF BISHOP BOONE.—We learn from the Spirit of Missions that Bishop Boone under the advice of his physician, is about to return to the United States on account of the entire prostration of his health. He expected to leave Shanghai about the 15th of May, in the ship Golden West.—Banner of the Cross.

☞ The Christian Advocate says a zealous evangelical spirit seems to prevail in England—We have lately given many proofs of the fact; we notice further that a large number of the clergy of Bristol (including between thirty and forty of the Establishment) have made arrangements for out-door preaching this summer.

ENGLAND.—The Divorce Bill is creating an extensive agitation, and with the best of reasons. The idea that the clergy are to be compelled to celebrate marriages which they believe to be forbidden by the express words of our Lord Himself, is intolerable. Even the ministers of the State Church in Prussia are not so craven as this. They refused to obey a similar law in Prussia, and the governments respects their rights of conscience. English clergymen are as fearless and as faithful, if not more so; and the English government will not dare to enforce a compliance. Already 104 petitions with 26,795 signatures have gone in against the bill.—Church Journal.

FEJEE ISLANDS.—Mrs. Binney, wife of a school teacher connected with the Methodist Mission in the Fejee Islands, has written a book for the Fejees in their native tongue, and is now translating the Pilgrim's Progress into Fijeean.—Halifax paper.

MISSION PRINTING AT CONSTANTINOPLE.—The printing done for the Missionaries of the Board at Constantinople in 1856, amounted to about 13,000,000 of pages. So many pages of religious, Christian truth, they put in circulation, and yet they say, "We are not able to keep up with the demand for our Books."—Ib.

HOW THE CHURCH OF ROME GAINS WEALTH.—Miss Hales, of Hales Place, has expressed a determination to forego the position in society she has occupied since attaining her majority, and to retire into a convent. It is also stated that the whole of the large estates which she inherits will be made over to the Church of Rome.—Canterbury Observer.

A BLACK BISHOP.—The Bishop of Sierra Leone, Rev. Dr. Weeks, having recently deceased, the London Star gives general currency to the rumor prevalent in clerical circles, that the appointment to the vacant See is likely to be conferred on Rev. Samuel Crowther, a man of color, whose history is well known in connection with religious efforts in that latitude.

SINGING.—A correspondent of one of our exchanges gives an account of some peculiarities in the singing which he heard in a church which he happened on one occasion to visit. He says:

"The choir sung a hymn to a tune which comes in as follows:—'My poor pol—my poor pol—my poor polluted heart.' Another line received the following rendering—'And in the pi—and in the pi—and in the pious he delights.' And still another was sung—'And take thy pil—and take thy pil—and take thy pilgrim home.'"

THE FIVE POINTS.—The Five Points mission in New York has been nearly ruined by a legacy of $30,000; its friends got the idea that it was too rich to need contributions, and so the supplies have nearly stopped. This is in illustration of killing by kindness.—Independent.

TREMONT TEMPLE, BOSTON.—We learn that the effort to raise the sum of $40,000 in order to secure the Tremont Temple building to the Baptists has been successful. It will in time, doubtless, become the head quarters of the Baptist denomination in New England, and the home of all the denominational enterprises which are located in Boston. The property, we are told, is held in such a way that in a few years, if judiciously managed, it will pay off all encumbrances, and afterwards yield a large sum, amounting to several thousands of dollars annually.

Wisconsin Institute for the Education of the Blind.

This institution, now suspended on account of the annual vacation, will be re-opened on the first Monday of October next.

During the present season the building will be so far completed as to afford ample accommodations for more than double the number of pupils here tofore in attendance, and all the necessary appliances for comfort and instruction will be correspondingly increased, so that its capacity for usefulness in the noble work allotted to it will be greatly enhanced as compared with the past.

The design of the Institute is to furnish all the young blind of both sexes, residing in the State, whether native or foreign born, with the means of a thorough education, as well as a comfortable and pleasant home during their term of instruction.

The school course comprises all the branches which are necessary to a good English education, together with vocal and instrumental music.—Instruction is also given in a variety of mechanical employments, by means of which many will be enabled to procure a competent support after leaving the Institute. Special attention is likewise given to the formation of correct personal habits, so that the plan of education pursued has reference to the moral and physical as well as the intellectual powers.

In the boarding department of the Institute everything needful for the promotion of the health, comfort and convenience of the inmates is provided, and no pains is spared by the officers to make them as happy and contented as they could be at their own homes. In case of sickness they receive prompt medical attendance, and are watched over with paternal solicitude by the superintendent and matron.

The school session occupies ten months in each year, leaving a vacation of two months when is spent by the pupils at their homes.

The term of instruction is not limited to any definite number of years, but the stay of each pupil is determined by the advancement made, and consequent fitness for graduating.

The rule pertaining to the ages of pupils embraces only those who are not under eight or above twenty-one years, but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases.

No person of confirmed immoral character is knowingly received into the Institute.

All the benefits of the institution, including boarding as well as instruction, are furnished to the blind residing in Wisconsin free of any charge, it being supported by legislative appropriations as a department of the common school system of the State. The only expense attendant upon a course of instruction is for clothing and traveling to and from the Institute.

Persons wishing to make application for the admission of pupils, or to gain further information concerning the institute, will address their communications to SURVIVING GOVERNORS.—There are eight surviving ex-Governors of New York, viz: Van Buren, Throop, Seward, Bouck, Hunt, Fish, Seymour, and Clark.

Massachusetts has but six, viz: Everett, Morton, Briggs, Boutwell, Clifford and Washburn.

Pennsylvania has but four, viz: Ritner, Porter, Johnston and Bigler.

Michigan has Woodbridge, Barry, Felch, Ransom and McClelland, who are ex-Governors.—Detroit Adv.

Ohio has seven surviving Governors: Bardley, Trimble, Corwin, Shannon, Bebb, Wood and Medill.—Cleveland Herald.

The only surviving ex-Governors of Illinois are French and Matteson.—Chicago Journal.

Ex-Governors Dewey, Farwell, and Barstow, of Wisconsin, all that we have had previous to the present Executive, are living.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.—The number of students for the year just closed, amounts to 164. Of these, 62 are from the city of Madison, 52 from other portions of Wisconsin, and 30 from other States. Of the latter, seven are from Ohio, five from Illinois, four from New York, three from Virginia, three from Minnesota, two from Maine, two from Pennsylvania, and one each from Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and California.

☞ There were in this port on Saturday 775 vessels, including 89 steamers, 134 ships, 143 barks, 120 brigs and 289 schooners. The Shipping List says seamen are less plenty, late arrivals having added very little to the previous supply, yet the wages currency remains as at last quoted.—N. Y. Mirror.

From the London Times, July 17.

How and When the Atlantic Telegraph will be laid down.

The two vessels, the Agamemnon and the Niagara, sail about the 25th inst., and are to be joined by her majesty's frigate Leopard, and the United States frigate Susquehanna. There are paddle-wheel steamers of considerable power, and are intended to pilot and assist the other vessels when necessary. The four steamers are to rendezvous in Cork Harbor, and will probably sail together from thence about the 1st of Aug. Their first destination will be latitude 52 deg. 40 min. N., and longitude 32 deg. 32 min., or the central point of the arc of the great circle between Valentia Harbor and Trinity Bay. Having waited here for favorable weather, should the elements not be propitious to the design on their arrival, a "splice" will be effected between the half of the telegraphic cable on board the Agamemnon and the half on board the Niagara, and they will part company—the Niagara and Susquehanna sailing westward, for Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, distant 900 to 1,000 miles; and the Agamemnon and Leopard returning eastward, paying out their portion of the cable until they make Valentia Harbor, on the coast of Ireland. The arc of the circle thus indicated is 1,834 miles in length, so that could each vessel steer an exact course to its destination, not subject to the errors of the magnetic needle or the disturbing influence of oceanic currents, each would have to pay out 917 miles of cable, but as that is impossible, each vessel has been supplied with an equal length of about 300 miles, to meet all emergencies. Supposing that each vessel should be able to pay out the cable at the rate of about five knots per hour, or 120 per day, it will thus be seen that the operation of dropping the great international link between this country and the United States will have been completed in eight days from the time the "splice" is effected in mid ocean and the vessels part company.

The outer coating of the greater part of the cable consists of a coil of eighteen strands of seven thread iron wire, as a protection to the gutta percha core, containing the telegraphic wires, from friction or other injury, until it has been safely deposited on the bed of the deep Atlantic. But those portions of the cable which will have to be joined when the vessels part company may possibly be subjected to an extra strain, as the first unbroken link of it sinks between the sterns of the two vessels to find its ultimate resting place, and to meet this possible contingency ten miles length of this central portion of the cable has been protected with a sheath of eighteen steel instead of iron wires, and is supposed to be capable of sustaining a strain of twelve tons. The machinery, made by Messrs. De Bergue & Co., includes paying out sheaves or drums of five feet in diameter, having grooves corresponding to the thickness of the cable, with a friction drum attached to them revolving three times as fast as they do, and with the breakage power to check or retard the motion of the sheaves at pleasure.

From the hold of each ship, the cable, passing over four of these sheaves to a few feet above the poop deck, will be dropped into the sea over a fifth sheave, placed above the stern. The exact amount of strain will be constantly indicated by an instrument for the purpose under the eyes of the breaksman. At the sides of the vessel will hang down into the water new electrical logs, principally due to Mr. Charles Bright, the Atlantic Company's Chief Engineer. These immersed logs have vanes and wheels revolving at a rate proportionate to the passage of the vessel through the water, and making an electric circle which is broken at each revolution. An electric wire, from the log to the deck, records there every revolution of the log, and consequently the exact speed of the ship. It must not be supposed when the ships part company that communication will be lost between those on board the vessels. The electricians have hold of either extremity of of the coils of the cable, and will interchange signals constantly, so that each vessel will be master of the other's fate, and of every incident that may help or retard the progress of submersion, unless some unfortunate emergency should snap the link. When the topmasts of the ships have sunk beneath the horizon, and they are lost to view by the look out men, the intercoeanic current of electricity will give instant record of all that passes, until the lengthening line of cable has been sunk from shore to shore. A bell on board each vessel will sound every second as each portion of cable is payed out, and its silence will probably be the first indication of any mishap arising from friction or over-tension of the cable, as the vessels will have apparatus on board, so that in any such emergencies they can be backed, the cable recoiled until the faulty place is found, when a piece will be cut out and the perfect portions reunited with as little delay as possible. In case of a storm, apparatus has been provided to allow for any extraordinary strain which may occur, and, if necessary, for cutting the cable without letting the outer end of it slip to the bottom of the ocean, whence it might never be recovered. In such an emergency, there are large reels of auxiliary cable of great length, which could be attached to the end; and these auxiliary cables can be suspended from the huge float-shaped buoys on the surface of the water, capable of resisting a very considerable strain till all danger has passed.

WALKER'S MILITARY POSITION.—Years ago, when Detroit was much smaller than it now is, there was a druggist and apothecary's shop kept at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Randolph st., on what is now the north-west corner of the Biddle House. It chanced one sultry afternoon that a man slightly intoxicated, called at that shop for an article. The attending clerk was not quite prompt enough to suit the convenience of the customer, who all at once got mad, and dared the clerk to fight. The clerk replied, "I am just as anxious to fight as you are, but you are at leisure, and I am busy—you go out and begin, and when I am released, I will be with you."—The position of Walker, at the head of eight hundred troops, before Lawrence, is precisely analogous to that of the belligerent custom referred to. "She has gone out and begun." Lawrence has no idea of fighting. There is probably not a more plundering, frigid, money making place in the whole country, peopled by men who desire to mend their fortunes and add to their stores—fighting is a subject wholly foreign to their notions, and it is not clear that Gov. Walker's dragoons might not rub against every man in Lawrence, without provoking a fight.

THE NEW COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN INDIA.—We find in one of our exchanges the subjoined brief biographical sketch of the new Commander-in-chief of the English forces in India:

Lieutenant General Sir Colin Campbell, who has just been appointed English commander in-chief in India, entered the army in 1808, as an ensign in the 9th regiment of foot. He served in the Walcheren expedition, and throughout the peninsular campaigns; received two severe wounds at Sir Sobastian, and was again severely wounded at the passage of the Bidassoa; served in North America during 1814 and 1815; in 1842 embarked for China, in command of the 98th regiment of foot; next in India where he greatly distinguished himself in 1848 and 1849; was among the wounded at the battle of Chillianwallah, and was appointed a knight commander of the Bath. He afterwards went to Turkey in command of a brigade of infantry, and brilliantly served throughout the operations in the Crimea. His services were rewarded with promotion to the rank of Lieutenant General, and the grand crosses of the Bath, the Legion of Honor, and the Sardinian order of Maurice and St. Lazare. He has recently held the office of Inspector-General of infantry, which he has now quitted in order to assume the supreme command in Bengal."

GARROTING.—We have been several times informed of cases of assault at night, on citizens returning home late, probably with a view of robbery. It is owing to a habit our St. Paul folks have of carring protective weapons, the villains generally fail in their designs. We have said little or nothing about most of these cases, as but few desire to see their names in a local item.

The last case of highway robbery occurred on Friday night last. Our fellow townsman, Mr. Lowry, was returning home across the common beyond the Fuller House about 11 o'clock, when two villains rushed at him from the lumber piles near by, and attempted to "garrote" him Mr. L. unfortunately, was unarmed, but showed fight, and although he was at once severely with a bludgeon on the head, saved himself from robbing until the approach of some persons, when the villains fled. The moon was shining brightly at the time.—St. Paul Minnesotian.

WEALTH OF ORGAN GRINDERS.—The tribe of street musicians who daily grind "that endless barcarolle of 'Poor Dog Tray,'" although often receiving more maledictions than pennies, nevertheless contrive to make a very respectable saving from their earnings. Many of them manifest a commendable frugality, and put their money out at interest. The Sicilian Consul at this port, Mr. Baggio, has now upwards of $15,000 entrusted to him by that portion of his countrymen resident in Boston, who gain their livelihood by street music, and for which he allows them interest at legal rates.—Commercial Advertiser.

THE GRAND CONTROVERSY.—The police last night, says the New York Times, arrested a drunken poet with the following epigram in his hat. He was handed over to the District Attorney:

A Butler came for his measure of praise,
At the darling pugilist's beck!
Some were for giving a bushel of bays,
And some for only a Peck.
But ere the green chaplet encircled his head,
A parson's daughter fair,
Ridely placed it on hers, instead,

FOR HOT COFFEE AT AUGUST 7.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

John Hallerea was found in a yard in the Fourth Ward and suspicion being aroused as to what brought him there, he was arrested. On examination, however it was found that he had been drunk, and wandered into the place without knowing where he was going, and without the intention of committing any depredation. He was fined $1.

SELLING HIS COAT FOR WHISKEY.—An honest looking fellow, though a sad victim of rum, was arrested in the 3d ward towards midnight, for being found on the streets drunk. He had exhausted all his funds to "wet gut," and then offered to sell his coat, which he took from his back, for 10 cents, and not being able to get so much for it, he sold it for 5 cents! With this he procured enough more of the poisonous stuff to gratify his thirst for the time, and then lay weltering in the street like a hog, enjoying it. He said that he had been a Mexican soldier, was a ship carpenter by trade, came to this city a few days since, got drinking, and was unable to stop himself while he had any money, though he said he knew it was wrong, he had any money, though he said he knew it was wrong, he had no help it, and finally as a last resort, he sold his coat for 5 cents to buy rum. Justice Walworth discharged him, issuing an execution for his arrest if he were found in the city after 12 o'clock upon which terms he was glad to get off.

MARY ANN HARRISON, a young woman—in fact a mere girl—was picked up in the streets the drunkest of any mortal we have ever seen. We saw her carried into the Station House, and it was really a deplorable sight—a delicate young female so beastly drunk that she was unable to move a limb, and yet she swore with a fluency that would have enabled an Erie Canal boatsman to the championship in that art. She was fined $5 and costs.

A Tenny, fast driving on bridge, fined $2.

George Thiel charged with stoning balls from the house of Thomas Turton, was examined, and recognized in $200 bail for his appearance before the Circuit Court.

Harris Wright, charged with adultery, case dismissed by District Attorney for want of prosecution.

John Hunt, drunk, was sent to jail for 20 days in default of $10 fine.

Opening Ball at the Newhall House.

A meeting was held last night at the room of Mr Rose, at the Newhall House, by a number of our prominent business men, for the purpose of making arrangements for the opening celebration. A committee of arrangements was appointed, and a programme adopted, all of which will be published on Monday.

It was determined to celebrate the opening of the Newhall House by a grand ball, to be given on Tuesday the 25th inst., and from the character of the gentlemen who have taken an active part in the matter in connection with Messrs. KEESE & ROSE, it will no doubt, be the grandest affair that has ever taken place in our city. We will speak of it more at length in our next issue.

A MANIAC AT LARGE.—Yesterday afternoon policeman Grubor came across a crazy German woman, roaming through the streets, in the 2d ward, and took her to the Station House. It seems that she had been missing for several days, and her friends were afraid that she had put an end to herself, and her child which she took with her. When she was found she had not the child with her nor could she tell where it was, and her husband was in great agony for some time, fearing that his child was killed or lost, but soon after the woman was taken up, the child was also brought home safe by some person who had picked it up on the street. The woman was taken care of by her husband, who lives in the Second Ward.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We learned last night from Mr. N. E. STEVENS, who came in on the evening train, that an Englishman named John Ellis was run over at Mayo Manie, by a train going west, and had both his legs and one arm taken off. The accident happened at about 2 o'clock, and the physicians who attended him did not expect that he could live an hour. He attempted to get upon the train while it was in motion, missed his step and fell upon the track. Ellis was a printer, about 40 years of age, and unmarried.

REV. JOHN JACKSON.—We understand that the West Baptist Church have invited that gentleman, lately a missionary in India, to become their pastor. We had the pleasure of hearing him last Sunday evening. He is an eloquent, talented, preacher, and his sermons abound in deep thought, richly expressed, and plain to every hearer. He would be a great accession to the religious strength of our city, and we hope he may accept their calls. He is to preach at their place of worship (Concert Hall) to-morrow at 10½ o'clock A. M., and at 7½ o'clock P. M.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon a German girl was run over by a team at the corner of Chestnut and Third Streets, and had one of her arms broken and was otherwise severely injured. Officer Just arrested the teamster and took him Police Justice, but the case was postponed in order to ascertain the extent of the injuries sustained by the young woman. The driver declared that he attempted to hold his team, but could not rein them up.

ERIE STREET.—We were pleased, much pleased, yesterday, as undoubtedly many others were, to see that the work of paving this street has at last commenced in earnest. If ever a public thoroughfare needed paving, Erie Street certainly does. All this season it has been in the most horrible condition—the mud three feet deep in some places during the dry weather, and in wet weather utterly impassable

Push on the good work!

ANOTHER NEW MILITARY COMPANY.—Another new military company is now being organized, to be composed of Irish Americans. It already numbers 84 members, and they extend a cordial invitation to all Irish Americans in the city who may wish to join their ranks. They meet at present at the Armory of the Union Guards, in Farlong's Block, where they drill three evenings in the week.

Cadet Meeting.

At a meeting held at the Light Guard Armory, on Thursday evening, Aug. 6th inst., on motion of C. H. Townsend, Hiram Bond was appointed Chairman, and Wm. J. Langson, Secretary.

The Chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to make arrangements for the organization of a Military Cadet Company to be attached to the Light Guard Battalion.

On motion of C. H. Townsend, the chairman appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by laws, consisting of C. H. Townsend, E. C. Hibbard, Wm. P. Bradley, and Wm. J. Leppard.

On motion of L. E. Hanson, the chairman selected a committee of four to appoint civil officers, consisting of L. E. Hanson, E. W. Carpenter, W. A. Ferrall, and Norman L. Bordick.

The Chairman also appointed Robert Chandler, Capt. E. P. Townsend, Major Rufus King, and G. S. Bingham, as a committee for procuring arms, &c.

The meeting then adjourned to Thursday evening, 13th instant.

HIRAM R. BOND, Chairman

WM. J. LANGSON, Secretary.

DISSOLUTION AND COPARTNERSHIP.—By a notice in another place it will be seen that the firm of STORRS & NOTE has been dissolved; Mr. Storrs retiring from business on account of ill health. By the same notice it will be seen that a co-partnership has been formed under the name and firm of NOTE & FOLSOM, to continue in the Produce and Commission business, at the same stand on the platform of the Mil. & Mins. R. R. Depot.

Mr. H. R. FOLSOM, has, for several years, been head clerk and foreman for Messrs. STORRS & NOTE, and by his industry and integrity gained the respect and confidence of his employers, and the good will of all who have had dealings with him. We heartily congratulate him upon his promotion, and wish the new firm all the success they deserve.

NOT CORRECT.—The Wisconsin of last evening, in its Police Court report, says:

John Jennings, charged with assault and battery upon David Adler, plead not guilty, &c.

It was John Jenkins, instead of John Jennings, who was charged with the assault. Mr. Jennings is a member of the Common Council, and one of our most respectable and respected citizens.

EXHIBITION OF THE HORTICULTURAL & AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.—There was a fine display of vegetables, and some very choice specimens of flowers at the exhibition of this association at the Market Hall, yesterday. The exhibition continues to day and this evening.

DRY GOODS.—Messrs. Chandler & Jennings, No. 199 East Water street, are now selling dry goods wonderfully cheap. They come out with a new bill of changing, which the ladies will do well to peruse. It will be found in another column.

ONLY ONE NIGHT MORE.—Smith's grand panorama of Europe will be exhibited for the last time, at Young's Hall, this evening. It will be exhibited in the afternoon for children and schools. Those who let this panorama go away without seeing it, lose a treat. The price of admission is 25 cents.

NEW MODE OF ADVERTISING.—Mr. HAWES, publisher of the "Western and Southern Ohio Pocket and Stranger's Guide," will soon be in town, and will call in a day or two, for the purpose of procuring advertisements for the next edition, which will be ready for distribution about the 25th of September next.

The work will be printed in a neat and accurate form, on good paper, and well bound, containing three indexes, one for advertiser's names, one for the different cities and one for miscellaneous matter, thus giving patrons a rare opportunity of getting their advertisements before the public, as each subscriber is his own circulator of the work, according to the amount advertised.

CONSUMPTION.—Dr. W. HUNTER wishes us to inform the public that he contemplates leaving this city in a few weeks, and that those who desire his profession al services would do well to call upon him immediately.—The Dr. has gained quite a reputation for his skillful treatment of consumption.

TAKE HEED.—D. TILTON has returned to the Massasoit House, Chicago, where may be obtained Old Dr. James' wonderful and celebrated extract of Cornhill's Indian. His son-in-law, Dr. Thomas Tilton, will supply you with either, personally or by Express. It is a sure and speedy cure of the worst cases of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, nervous debility, coughs, colds and sore throats.—We know this to be a fact. Try it and live

P S.—By addressing Dr. Tilton a note through the Chicago Post Office, inclosing four stamps, (12 cents), a recipe will be sent in return, free of charge, to any part of the Union. DR. TILTON,

NEW LIGHTHOUSES, &c.—A new light house has been commenced at Black River, O., of the same class of those building at Point aux Barque and Charity Island.

The new iron beacon has been commenced at Huron, and will be pushed forward with all due vigor. The new pier has not been commenced. We regret that there should be any misapprehension with respect to the act of appropriation which passed the last Congress. There is no better natural harbor on Lake Erie, and we hope its claims to the fostering care of the government will ere long be heard.

A new lighthouse is in contemplation at Grand River. The upper part of the Dunkirk light house has been taken down, and a new top and lantern is to be put on.—The work is now progressing.

A new top is also to be put on the Buffalo light house.—It will be highly ornamental. The present light will be replaced by one of the third order.
